

CORINTHIAN CAPITAL GROUP INVESTS IN ALUMACRAFT

JANUARY 2012

ALUMACRAFT

Corinthian Capital Group, LLC, a private equity firm specializing in investments in small and middle market companies, has announced that it has partnered with the management of Alumacraft Boat Co., to complete a recapitalization of the business. The company, headquartered in St. Peter, MN, with manufacturing facilities in St. Peter, MN and Arkadelphia, AR, is a leading manufacturer of aluminum fishing and recreational boats for lake and river use.

“The management of Alumacraft has built a strong legacy in the boating community,” stated James Irwin, President of Alumacraft. “Corinthian Capital has the same mindset as we do, the same commitment to manufacturing, the community and this industry.”

“We are confident that with our partnership with Alumacraft’s impressive management team, along with the company’s diverse product line, strong domestic dealer network and growing international distribution, the company is well-positioned to achieve even greater success,” said Jim McNair of Corinthian Capital.
